

Journey to Justice: Hull

Taster session: Friday November 18th 2016

At: WISE, Oriel Chambers, 27 High Street, Hull HU1 1NE

Aims

- Introduce you to the work of Journey to Justice: activities, projects, approach
- Showcase Journey to Justice projects: exhibition programme, work with young people
- Discuss the possibility of bringing Journey to Justice to Hull in 2017
- Identify potential venues, audiences, activities, funding sources
- Begin to explore some local, untold stories of struggles for rights and freedoms

10.00 to 10.30 Arrival – registration and refreshments

10.30 – 10.40 Welcome Prof. John Oldfield, Director of WISE, the Wilberforce Institute for the Study of Slavery and Emancipation.

10.40 – 11.00 Aims of the day and introduction to Journey to Justice: stories and the travelling exhibition, Carrie Supple, Director & Martin Spafford, Secretary, Journey to Justice

11.00 – 11.30 The role of local history - struggles for social justice in Hull, Dr Brian Lavery, author of The Headscarf Revolutionaries What motivates people to get involved in action for social justice?

11.30 Break

11.45 JtoJ case studies: Journey to Justice in the North East and Working with young people: JtoJ Live in Leyton, London

12.00 - 13.00 Discussion about JtoJ coming to Hull Steps needed to make it happen. Potential interest; potential partners, dates and venues; audiences; activities; likely costs; funding sources; local histories of struggles for freedom, equality and rights. Steering group? What next? Volunteers, responsibilities? Next meeting? Questions and answers. Chaired by Carrie and Martin

Evaluation

13.30 Close